Future Champions Strategy:

Supporting Coaching within NSW

The NSW Office of Sport's Future Champions strategy was launched in December 2019. Its primary focus is to ensure that the participants and emerging athletes of NSW, have the right fit of sporting engagement, knowledge and support to fulfill their sporting ambitions and success on and off the sporting field. To achieve this and utilising a consolidated best practice approach informed by the FTEM NSW Participant and Athlete Framework, the strategy provides clear recommendations for the NSW sports sector to review and refine their operational strategies and related education, networking and support systems.

It is well recognised that our Coaching workforce is integral to achieving favourable outcomes within the Foundational and Talent levels of sport and active recreation.

Educating and empowering coaches who support and mentor the participants and athletes of NSW is a key priority recognised within the Future Champions Strategy.

The following interactive resource was developed specifically to support coaches and instructors within NSW, in their understanding and application of the FTEM NSW Framework.

FTEM NSW was informed by the original FTEM framework developed by the Australian Institute of Sport, a fully integrated evidence based framework representing the major phases of Foundation, Talent, Elite and Mastery of the whole sport pathway continuum.

Some information about this resource

Who is this resource for?

The considerations presented within this resource are pitched towards all organisations that oversee the engagement, education and support of coaches and instructors within the Talent (Pre-elite) levels including -

- clubs
- schools and universities
- local, regional, state and national level sporting organisations and agencies

How was this resource developed?

Substantial expertise and practical learnings sourced from the contemporary knowledge base of coaching and current practitioners and coach educators within the NSW sector, contributed to the development of this resource and its practical recommendations.

How do I use this resource?

This resource can be viewed either in its entirety or you can access specific information for each Talent level by clicking on the interactive tabs on the right hand side of page 12 onwards.

How will it assist me in my role?

This comprehensive resource provides -

- a brief background on the FTEM NSW framework
- a description of each level of FTEM NSW within its Talent levels
- a checklist of practical considerations for Coaches and Instructors, for each level

Importantly, the recommendations tabled are not intended to be exhaustive but provide a 'checklist' of considerations for progressing current strategy and practice. It is envisaged that this information will be of value to facilitate -

- effectiveness, efficiency and alignment of coaching practice
- coach recruitment
- coach engagement, development and retention strategies
- curricula and educational initiatives
- accreditation processes.

Where do I find more information?

Specific to supporting Coaching capability and capacity within the Talent levels, please refer also to the Pathway Development Success Coach Profile developed in partnership with NSWIS @ <https://www.sport.nsw.gov.au>.

For detail specific to the background and features of the FTEM NSW Participant and Athlete Development Framework please visit our website <https://sport.nsw.gov.au>.

To view detailed 'whole of sport' information incorporating the FTEM NSW Talent and Elite and Mastery levels please access the FTEM NSW Participant and Athlete Framework: System level Guidelines - All levels document or separate Talent and Elite/Mastery versions.

Unpacking the Talent Levels of FTEM NSW for Coaches

Talent 1

Initial demonstration of an emerging athlete's talent potential.

Talent 2

Confirmation of an emerging athlete's talent potential.

Talent 3

Practicing and achieving as a recognised emerging NSW athlete.

Talent 4

Breakthrough and reward and preparation for the senior elite transition (E1).

Why are the Talent Levels so important?

Underpinning sustainable elite success, the Talent or 'pre-elite' levels of the sport development continuum, are arguably the most important component of the High-Performance Pathway. These are the critical years of the emerging pre-elite athlete who is committed and dedicated to honing their craft and preparing for their breakthrough into the elite levels (E1-M).

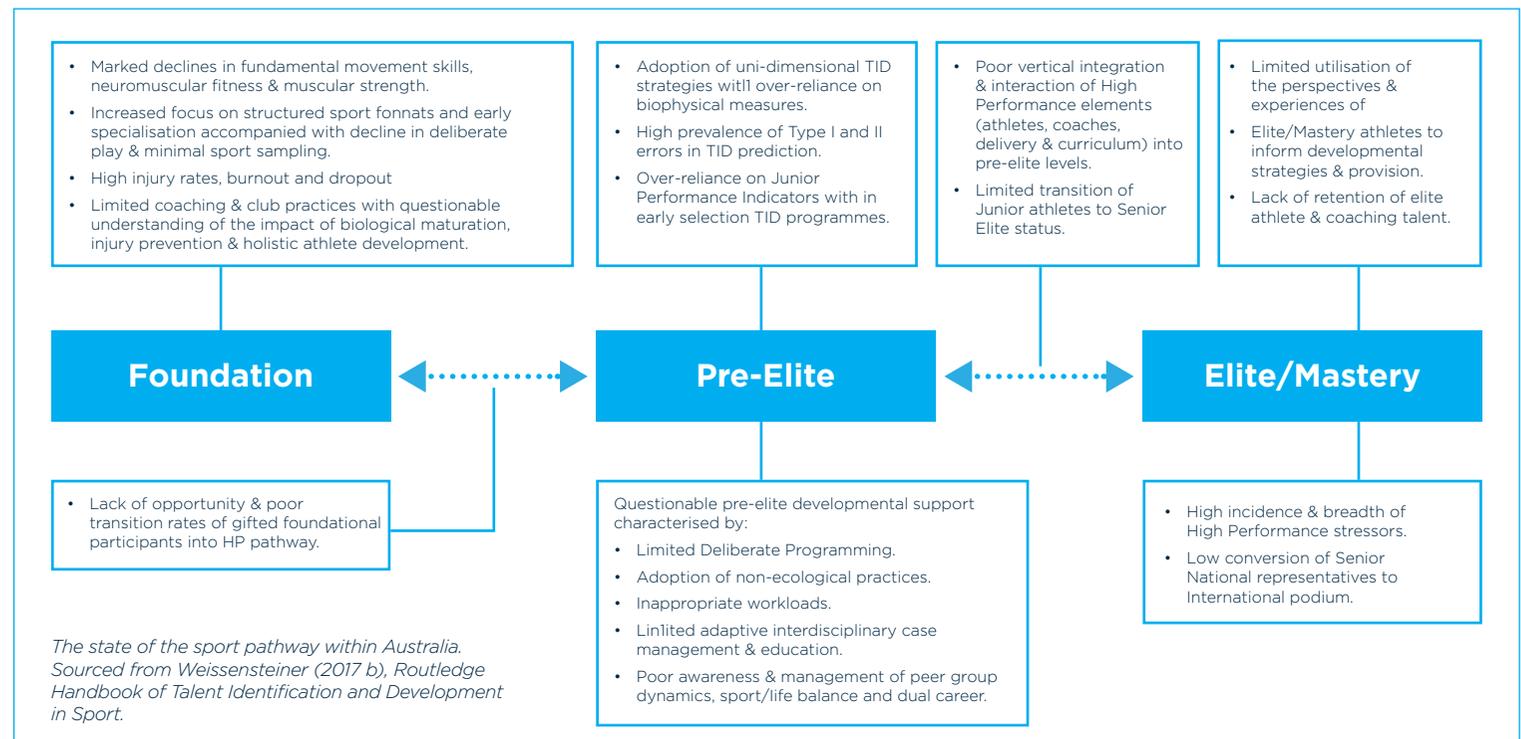

Commonly, however, the journey through these levels can be arduous and long with limited opportunity, recognition, guidance, coordinated support and funding for these athletes, whilst they are juggling their sport, vocational and life commitments. If not case managed appropriately, this can often lead to the pre-elite athlete not realising their talent potential, burning out and dropping out (see Figure).

The best-practice recommendations showcased within the Talent levels of FTEM NSW provide a logical and progressive framework for all stakeholders to better IDENTIFY, CONFIRM, DEVELOP and TRANSITION emerging athletes within NSW.

Central to this approach, is the criticality of :

- multi-dimensional, evidence-informed, valid and inclusive talent identification strategies and limited reliance on juvenile competition indicators
- dedicated confirmation strategies whereby an athlete's future potential is verified over a dedicated time period, within rich training and competition-like settings
- transparent and consistent selection processes
- best practice development environments led by quality planning, athlete management and coaching and coordinated through effective deliberate programming (Bullock et al., 2009)

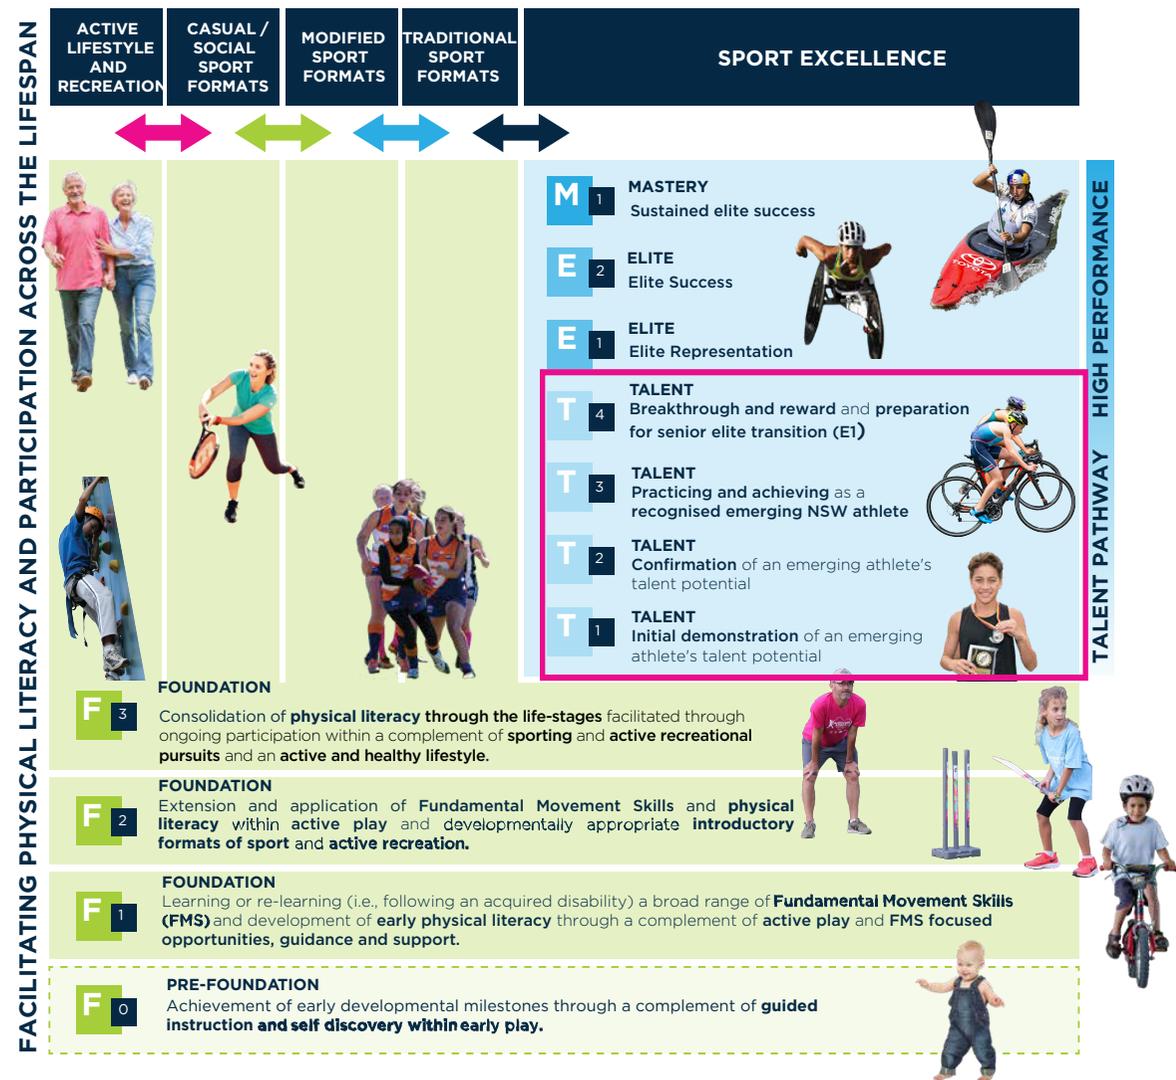

- longitudinal athlete monitoring that informs an athlete's day to day individual case management
- appropriate and well timed domestic and international competition opportunity and exposure
- strong support networks in and out of sport
- best practice athlete and coach education
- pre-emptive, support strategies to assist an athlete's management of their dual career and maintenance of sport-life balance
- proactive transitional strategies to the elite levels.

Key features of the Talent levels

Directly informed by considerable national and international level evidence and learnings, including from the Australian Institute of Sport and the International Olympic Committee, the progressive and integrated Talent levels of the FTEM NSW (T1 to T4) framework advocate a complement of best practice strategies that will ensure that sports have a stronger and sustainable 'talent pipeline' up to the elite level, and the right fit of opportunity and support for the emerging athlete.

- T1 - Initial demonstration of an emerging athlete's talent potential and T2 - confirmation of an emerging athlete's talent potential are key TID events and strategies that are utilised together to support inclusive and effective talent selection.
- T3 - Practicing and achieving as a recognised emerging NSW athlete - a broad developmental period where an emerging athlete's development is coordinated through a dedicated deliberate programming approach.
- T4 - Breakthrough and reward and preparation for the senior elite transition- A key event or accomplishment achieved by an emerging athlete signaling their readiness and preparation to transition to the elite level.

The FTEM NSW Talent Pipeline

The schematic below provides a snap shot overview of an effective talent strategy utilising the FTEM NSW Talent levels and guiding principles.

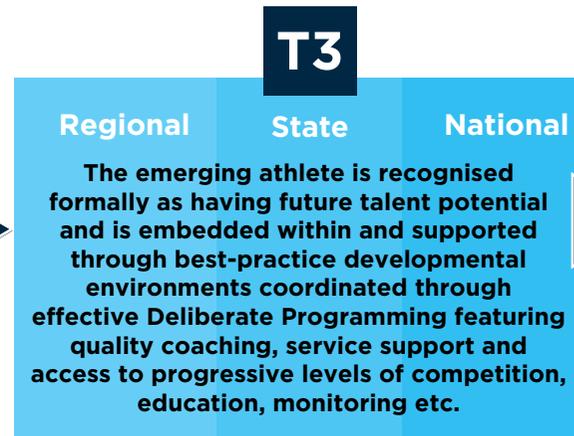

Key operational focus for overseeing Organisations and their delivery partners

Provision of dedicated TID opportunities and aligned processes to support inclusive and effective talent selection of athletes

Provision of holistic and coordinated developmental opportunities and support over a broad developmental period with a focus on athlete retention and progression

Clarity on performance indicators signaling an athlete's readiness to transition into open age elite level and the required case management, competitive opportunity and support

Description of level

Provision of multiple and complementary TID recruitment opportunities and entry points for the aspiring athlete to enter and/or re-enter into the talent pathway

 Emerging athletes in reality, may cycle through the T1 to T3 levels and aligned processes several times as they traverse up age/competitive and representative levels (e.g., talent selection and development within U14, U16, U18; Regional, State, National Junior competitive/representative levels etc.) or re-enter the talent pathway in their sport or in another sport.

What the Talent Levels of FTEM NSW are not

The Talent levels are not predicated on chronological age, competition levels or simply an overlay of programs.

Considerate of -

- the realistic variance in ages of emerging athletes within the Talent levels of sport (consider an older athlete transferring into another sport at a T1/2 level).
- the developmental trajectory of emerging athletes (See Figure) commonly characterised by selection (ascent) and de-selection (descent).
- compelling evidence showing that competitive performance at a junior age is not a strong correlate of future senior performance success.

the Talent levels of FTEM NSW advocate that sport and their delivery partners within the Talent pathway apply a progressive set and coordination of key talent identification and development strategies to -

- maximise opportunity, inclusion and support of the emerging athlete.
- support the sport's operational alignment, efficiency and effectiveness.

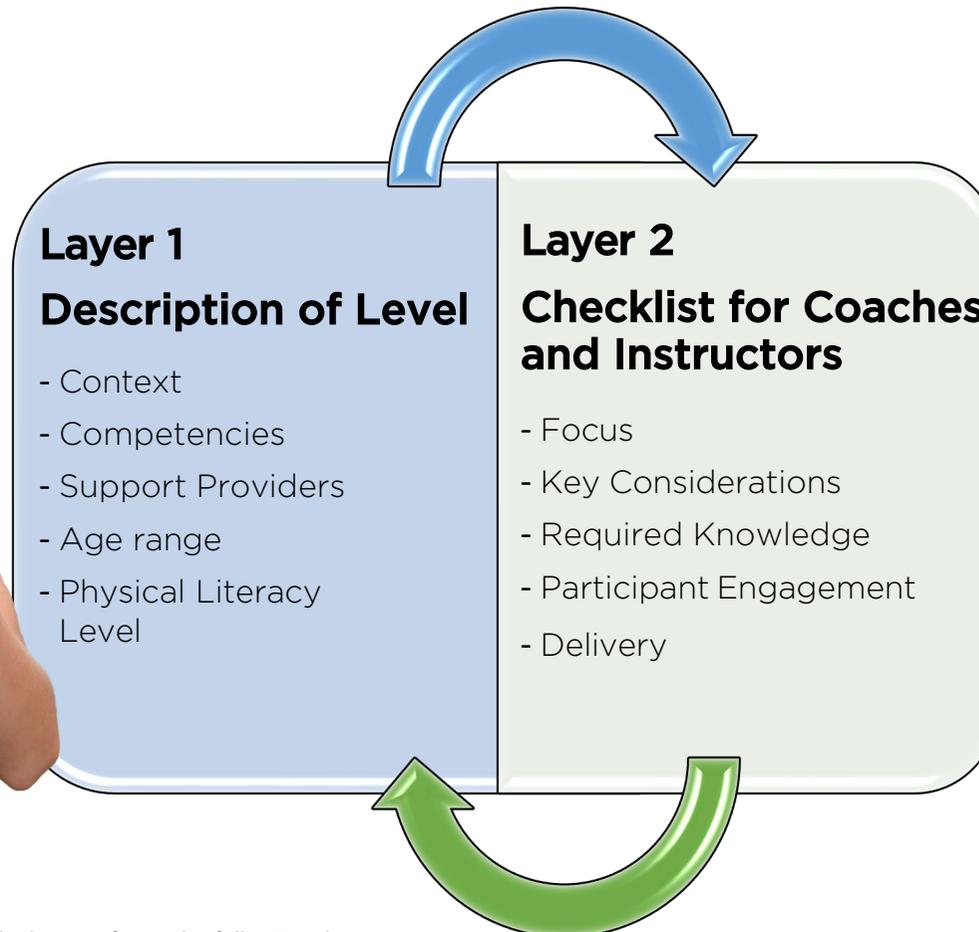

The varied developmental trajectories of 256 Senior Elite Athletes
(Gulbin, Weissensteiner, Oldenziel and Gagné, 2013)

Guidelines and practical tips

Over the next few pages, we will unpack the T1 to T4 Talent levels of FTEM NSW, integrating a holistic and ecological approach inspired by the 3D-AD (Three Dimensional Athlete Development) model. Two layers of information and advice centred around the emerging athlete, will be provided for Coaches and Instructors specific to each level as depicted in the graphic below.

Please note that levels T1 and T2 are presented together as they are complementary levels and strategic events and processes advocated to support effective identification and confirmation of emerging sporting talent.

Please use the interactive tabs on the right of this page and throughout this section to access specific information for each level.

Talent level 4

Talent level 1

Description of level

Focus: Initial demonstration of an emerging athlete's talent potential.

Type of Level - Key TID EVENT.

Context for the Participant

The aspiring athlete initially demonstrates their talent potential and are recognised by their respective SSO/SSOD and/or regional system partner (e.g., Regional Academy of Sport etc.) after being identified -

a) Within Their Main Sport (Traditional Talent Identification) through -

- being talent spotted at a Regional or State Under-age or Club level championships/event
- attending a designated TID testing day.

b) Talent spotted from Within Another Sport (Talent Detection or Transfer) and considered to have high performance potential in the future.

As a consequence, the athlete is offered an opportunity to progress to the CONFIRMATION level (T2) to verify their talent potential and readiness.

Type of Level - Key TID Event.

Context for the Emerging Athlete

Aspiring athletes identified within T1, are immersed into a formalised, observational trial period within their daily training environment (e.g., 1-3 months) AND/OR attend dedicated Talent Confirmation camps/events to formally confirm their readiness and suitability to progress to the T3 level and be supported through a SSO/SSOD recognised talent development program.

Emerging athletes are required to demonstrate their 'full' athletic profile within both training and competitive contexts which encompasses their -

- sport-specific skills (technical, perceptual & cognitive)
- psychological skills (e.g., character, motivation, commitment, learning potential, self-regulation, resilience/coping skills, self management etc.)
- social/emotional skills and sport-life balance

- sporting smarts (knowledge structures)
- physical literacy and neuromuscular robustness
- physiological capacity
- coachability and adaptability.

THE COACH -

- ✓ Utilises consistent Coaches Eye Assessments covering the required holistic athlete profile, endorsed by SSO/NSO.
- ✓ Moderates selection decisions relative to an athlete's training history/age/maturation (e.g., utilising relevant age and maturational benchmarks).
- ✓ Can measure/recognise an athlete's maturational status (e.g., late, neutral and early maturing) and is able to moderate decision making and management of that athlete accordingly.
- ✓ Has a sound understanding of an athlete's current life context and associated demands (i.e., school, university, vocation, family etc.) and available support network.
- ✓ Has prior experience specific to the effective talent identification/confirmation of talent transfer athletes if assisting in talent transfer initiatives.
- ✓ Can employ effective integration of inter-disciplinary expertise to support talent identification and confirmation processes.
- ✓ Provides clear communication to both the athlete and parents regarding next steps if selected or not selected.
- ✓ Can effectively communicate to an athlete their areas for development and provide specific recommendations to address these areas.
- ✓ Has effective documentation processes and can effectively and consistently interpret talent identification and confirmation assessments.

Talent level 3

Description of level

Focus: Practicing and achieving as a recognised emerging NSW athlete.

Type of Level - Broad Developmental Level (Could span 1 to 6+ years)

Context for the Emerging Athlete

The identified and confirmed pre-elite athlete is formally recognised and supported by their respective SSO/SSOD and in some cases their NSO/NSO (i.e. representation with a National Training Youth squad/team) and are committed to achieving higher levels of sport performance.

They are embedded within recognised and dedicated pre-elite programs featuring the right fit of individual case management and effective integration of collaborative support partners (e.g., SSOs, RAS, Developmental Academies, Schools, Universities Clubs etc.).

There is a shared understanding and commitment between ALL collaborative support partners specific to ensuring the effective case management of each athlete (e.g., monitoring training and competition loads and demands, injury incidence, wellbeing etc.) and where the right fit of competition opportunity and progression is provided to the athlete.

Within this level, the coordination and quality of integrated support through a dedicated and transparent deliberate programming approach is driven by transparent and shared Individual Athlete Performance Plans (IAPP) and informed by ongoing athlete monitoring, to maximise and reduce potential burnout, injury, underachievement and dropout.

Supporting the Pre-elite Athlete

Talent level 3

Coaching principles and considerations

ROLE -

Oversees the development, case management and monitoring of the pre-elite athlete. Liaises with fellow coaches, Pathway staff, SSSM staff and overseeing Sporting Organisation.

THE COACH -

- ✓ Possesses excellent teaching, inter-personal, communication and influencing skills.
- ✓ Invests in their own learning and development e.g., accessing information and research, attending educational and networking events, supported by a mentor etc.
- ✓ Ensures their athletes are supported through a safe, positive and facilitative environment and culture where the 'athlete's voice' is heard and their physical and psychological wellbeing is paramount to their 'duty of care'. Consistently upholds and demonstrates child safe practices, strong integrity and sportsmanship.
- ✓ Manages effectively the 'athlete-coach' partnership and promotes the autonomy of the athlete through embracing challenge, utilisation of self regulatory strategies and investment in learning and improvement (i.e., appropriate levels of feedback, setup of challenging tasks/scenarios/environments, promotion of continual self-reflection and problem solving.
- ✓ Implements effective and consistent talent development strategies informed by an athlete's holistic developmental status, requirements and goals (i.e., as articulated within a dedicated Individual Athlete Development or Performance Plan (IAPP) with oversight from their respective SSO/SSOD.
- ✓ Oversees a formalised IAPP process with Athlete/Coach input that is transparent and accountable between SSO/SSOD and other collaborative support partners (e.g., NSWIS, NSW RAS/School/University/Club)

THE COACH -

- ✓ Effectively utilises athlete monitoring tools (e.g. AMS) to monitor an athlete's performance progress and physical and psychological wellbeing and then can in turn, adapt and enhance that athlete's case management.
- ✓ Effectively integrates inter-disciplinary expertise to support holistic athlete development.
- ✓ Evidence-based, contemporary, ecological and holistic coaching delivery characterised by strong sport-specific knowledge and informed by best practice skill acquisition.
- ✓ Incorporates ecological training practices to further refine an athlete's profile and related skill proficiencies (e.g., required complement of technical/tactical/psychological skills) within competitive-like conditions (e.g. under pressure, fatigue, differing environmental and competitive conditions etc.).
- ✓ Ensures that an athlete has the required 'Sporting Smarts' and regularly and effectively applies these skills in training, competition, outside of sport (i.e., nutrition, hydration, recovery, sleep, injury prevention, psychological and well-being and engagement strategies, anti-doping awareness and compliance, dealing with the media etc.).
- ✓ Manages effectively the competitive progression and exposure of their athlete/s.
- ✓ Oversees the delivery of quality camps and and related developmental opportunities.

Coaching principles and considerations cont.

THE COACH -

- ✓ Integrates elite/mentor athletes and coaches where appropriate.
- ✓ Is aware of the contextual background of an athlete and assists the athlete in managing concurrent demands such as career and educational commitments, family and peers.
- ✓ Ensures effective training/load awareness, monitoring and management.
Oversees appropriate frequency and timing of tapering of athletes relative to key competitions.
- ✓ Effectively incorporates injury prevention and management strategies.
- ✓ Includes appropriate strength & conditioning programs featuring an ecological and evidence-based approach e.g. postural, core and major joint stability, strength and power, neuromuscular control/coordination and fitness.
- ✓ Is cognisant of strategies to empower an athlete's learning potential and self-regulation (e.g. encouraging goal setting, self reflection, critical thinking, problem solving etc.).
- ✓ Has a strong awareness of and can adequately manage peer dynamics.

Talent level 4

Description of level

Focus: Breakthrough and reward and preparation for the senior elite transition (E1).

Type of Level - Key Breakthrough event.

Description of Level

The pre-elite athlete achieves a significant breakthrough and is recognised formally by their respective SSO/NSO, SSOD/NSOD as a prospective elite athlete and is directly assisted in their transition to the elite ranks (e.g., for prioritised Olympic and Paralympic sports an NSWIS or NSO Scholarship/funding; for a Professional sport being a recipient of a rookie contract within a top-tier state squad or professional team etc.).

They are commonly considered a 'categorised athlete' in line with their NSO/NSOD and may receive additional monetary and service support (e.g., dAIS payments).

Holistic and integrated support is provided to the athlete as listed for the T3 level as well as dedicated and individualised education, preparation and management of the pre-elite to support their pending transition to the elite level through :

- an aligned and agreed understanding of potential barriers and facilitators;
- implementation of proactive strategies to mediate the transition.
